

I am Amanda Fallon Locher and I have been teaching for seven years. I am originally from Marietta, Georgia. I chose early education as my career because I wanted to be able to change the lives of others each and every day...no matter how small. The field of early education is ever evolving and we as educators are learning a vast amount of new information about young minds, how they develop and how to continuously keep young minds engaged and seeking more knowledge. My favorite activities to do with young children are anything involving experiments, especially messy experiments!

When I am not teaching I love to visit new places and partake in family activities with my three handsome sons.
